Response To Question Submitted By An Interested Vendor

Question: I understand there is a modified Exhibit I Checklist. Can I simply submit this checklist with appropriate check marks as its own document, or would I need to resubmit my whole Technical Proposal?

Response: Just submit the new checklist. It did not change any forms but changed some statements to the form. Your entire Technical proposal does not need to be resubmitted if nothing has changed. If there are any changes to your proposal, just submit the changes referencing the page it reflects.

Question: If the answer to #1 is Yes, than would I also need to obtain a notary again for each of the documents that require a notary signature which is included in my bid I had already submitted before the original due date and release of the addendums?

Response: See above response.

Question: If I only intend on resubmitting the Cost Proposal, am I able to submit just that document, or do I have to resubmit the entire bid package (with CD's) as outline on page 8 of 50 on Addendum #2?

Response: No. The entire proposal document does not need to be re-submitted if there are no changes. You may resubmit anything that changes from your original proposal.

Question: I assume I can submit just the signature page of the five addendums confirming I was in receipt of each of them.

Response: Yes
